Update Form 94

Section One
Introduction

The purpose of this Family Violence Program Directory is to provide professionals, community group workers and the general public with an up-to-date, comprehensive guide to available support services across the province of Nova Scotia. In order to maintain a current edition of this Directory, we welcome your comments and request your assistance in periodically updating it. An update form is included at the back of the Directory.

Agencies which are not included in the Directory but which offer relevant services are encouraged to complete the form and return it to the Family Violence Prevention Initiative. Please inform us if your agency or organization is aware of other relevant services which are not included in this edition of the Directory. Please forward any additions or deletions to us as they arise. We will also contact you prior to a subsequent printing for any changes.

The definition of family violence, as used in this Directory, includes any abusive behaviour inflicted by one or more family members on another and covers areas generally referred to as woman or partner abuse, child abuse and neglect, child sexual abuse, elder abuse and abuse of persons with disabilities. This includes physical, sexual, emotional/psychological and financial abuse and neglect.

Selection of Agencies and Organizations

The agencies and organizations contained in this Directory offer a wide range of services and are relevant to a number of vulnerable groups. While most of the organizations listed focus specifically on family violence issues, the Directory also provides listings of supplementary support services that may also address the needs specific to victims of family violence.

Organization of the Directory

Agencies are organized into two broad categories: Province-wide services and Programs and Services by Community. Community-based services are available in the towns and cities where the agencies are located, although availability in many cases extends to surrounding areas. This will be noted in italics. Agencies in each area are listed alphabetically and include a brief summary of the types of services they provide.

Index of Services by Vulnerable Group

The Index of Services by Vulnerable Group lists the agencies which offer services specific to the needs of various groups (e.g. victims of child abuse). To use the index:

- Locate the vulnerable group

- Turn to the corresponding page number to see if the desired services are available

Information Sources

Information was initially collected from telephone interviews with staff members of agencies and existing community-specific directories. It was then distributed to each agency for confirmation. Subsequent updates will be made periodically based on submitted forms.

Accessibility

While we attempted to gather information concerning accessibility, this information does not appear in the current edition due to concerns of validity and reliability of data. We intend to seek other ways of gathering this and other information (wheelchair accessibility, interpreters, etc.) for publication in future editions of this resource.
